Warehousing & Distribution

More than ever before supply chain management is a primary enabler of business strategy. At ROSAN Sea Air Services, we help our clients improve operating performance by efficiently and cost effectively moving, minimizing, managing and adding value to their inventories – from the point at which it is produced / imported until it reaches the end customer – anywhere in locally or globally.

ROSAN is one of the small independent forwarder capable of offering transnational logistics service in the Indian Subcontinent, capable of providing a true integrated logistics program encompassing domestic warehousing and distribution programs within the region as well as our traditional international transportation services. Our experienced domestic logistics team can source, staff, equip and manage warehouses anywhere in the region.

Customs Brokerage

Often the most critical part of the supply chain is clearing your goods through Customs. Lack of expertise in commodity classification, government rules and regulations, documentation and valuation can have a significant impact on your landed cost and transit time. ROSANs' customs brokerage division offers you the global presence, local expertise and passion for accuracy that you need to smooth the flow of your goods through the international logistics pipeline. ROSAN is represented in every major Customs port of entry in the world through our agents. Our customs clearing team is dedicated to providing you with accurate, error free documentation, duty minimization strategies, swift clearances, and minimizes regulatory delays.

We understand how a well designed Customs clearance program can reduce your cycle times, increase your cash flow and improve the visibility of your shipments. That's why our customs clearance services range from traditional entries to customized duty drawbacks and industry or commodity driven programs.

We are able to negotiate competitive import & export pricing for ocean (FCL& LCL) and air shipments while consistently providing reliable and efficient service.
